J. R. LOVE, M.L.A.
FAVORS NEW POLICY IN ALBERTA HOUSE

Speaking in the provincial house last week Mr. J. Russel Love, M.L.A. for Wainwright Constituency; laid out several new policies which he desired to see brought down and which he would favor.

The development of the oil fields of the province was strongly urged by Mr. Love. There was oil in the province. This had been proven, but the public had no indication as to what extent the product was to be found.

Mr. Love said that up to the present time it had been very difficult to get any definite information in connection with oil wells that were being drilled. The government had a general knowledge of the work that was being carried on, but as to the extent of the field or the possibilities very little was known.

The public, because of the lack of information was very slow in investing its money in the development, but this situation might be improved upon if the government kept definite and reliable records.

"The Government should appoint a geologist and pet Engineer who could prepare official logs of the wells being drilled in Alberta and give tests of the discoveries so that the public could get any information it desired in this respect. At the present a record of the mines is kept in this manner and the service should be extended to cover the oil development work as well he contended.

Mr. Love expressed the desire

SHELTER FOR THE GARDEN
(Experimental Farm Note)

Assurance may be given that for the most successful growing of horticultural crops,—fruits, vegetables and flowers, on the open Canadian Prairies, protection from the strong and cool winds is essential. Shelter protection benefits these crops to a large degree.

The Morden Experimental Station, with the exception of a row of large box elder and green ash and cottonwood trees around the old farm house, was open prairie 1916. During that season Caragana and willow hedges were planted generously. These have developed well and afford with other subsequent plantings of different materials, friendly shelter to most of the garden areas. However, each season some plantings of vegetable crops and flowers are made in the open for comparison.

The following general observations have been noted at the Morden Experimental Station and at neighbouring farmsteads.

1. Shelter is most valuable when found on all four sides of the garden.

2. If there were but one material for garden shelter, the choice would be—the Siberian pea tree, Caragana arborescens.

3. The most effective shelter seems to be that afforded by rows of spruce trees. These are of slow growth in early life.

4. Coniferous trees, such as spruce and pine, seem to be less severe on the soil moisture in summer, than are the deciduous

Mineral production in Canada for 1924 is estimated at $203,194,000, as compared with $214,079,331 in the preceding year, according to a preliminary statement issued by the Department of Mines. Metallic minerals accounted for $96,034,000 of the total, followed by fuels and other non-metallics with $73,830,000, and structural materials and clay products with $33,330,000.

The Port of Montreal created a new world record in 1924 for the amount of grain handled by any one port in any one year, namely, 165,139,396 bushels, while from January 1 to November 30 she handled 94,366,508 bushels more than her nearest competitor and 17,332,709 bushels more than the seven next busiest ports combined.

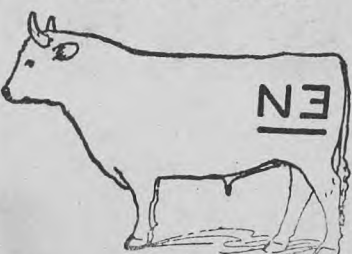

Described as the finest coastal vessel in the world, the "Princess Kathleen," recently launched by Lady Mount Stephen, widow of the late Lord Mount Stephen, a former president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left Glasgow on January 15 on her ten thousand mile journey through the Panama canal to join the Canadian Pacific's fleet of coastal steamships plying the sea-board of British Columbia.

A historic pageant of some proportions is being planned by the Calgary exhibition board for this year, its object being to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the city by the old North-West Mounted Police in 1875. In the period which has since elapsed, Calgary has grown to be an extremely busy, modern city, having a population of 75,000. A stampede similar to those held in Calgary in previous years is also planned for this summer.

The itinerary of the "All Blacks," New Zealand's wonderful rugby team, hitherto unbeaten, in their tour of Canada, was announced by the Canadian Pacific recently. Landing at St. John, N.B., on January 31, from the company's steamship "Montlaurier," the team will proceed across the Dominion via Canadian Pacific lines. They will make short stays at Montreal, on February 1; Toronto, February 2; Niagara Falls, February 3; Calgary, February 6; Banff, February 7-9; Vancouver, February 10-21, and sail from San Francisco on the 25th. Calgary is giving them a ball and dance at the Palliser Hotel, they will take part in the Banff winter carnival, and will play teams from Vancouver and Victoria while on the coast.

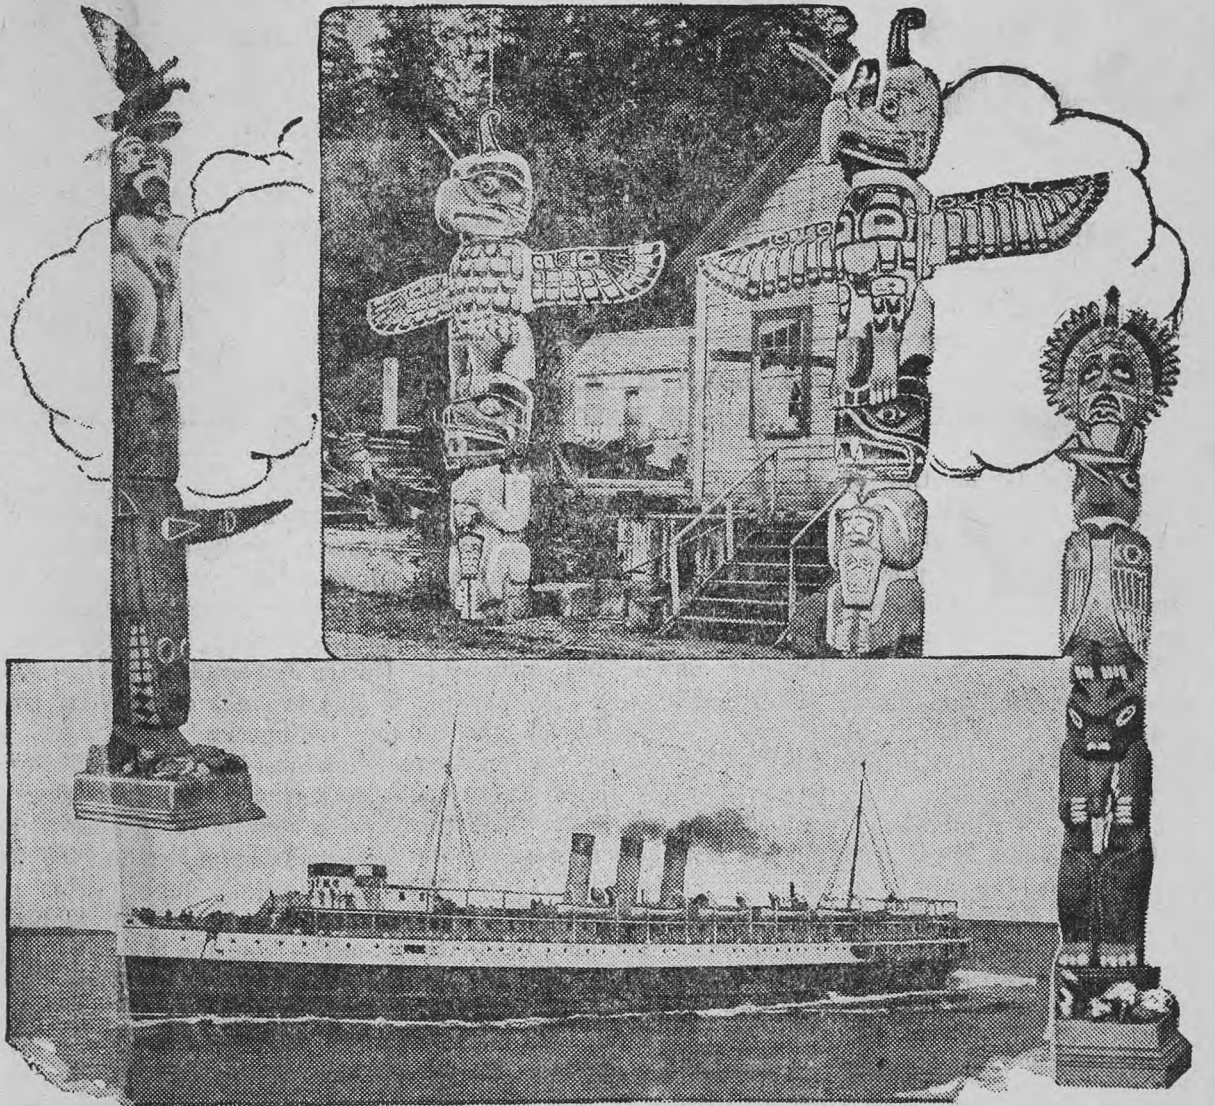

Very heavy summer travel is anticipated by the Canadian Pacific Railway during 1925, especially to conventions on the Pacific coast of Canada and the United States. C. B. Foster, passenger traffic manager of the company, announced recently. Canadian and American railroads expect 150,000 persons to attend these conventions, some of which will be very large. At least thirty westward bound special trains, and as many eastward bound, will be provided by the Canadian Pacific to handle the delegates, Mr. Foster stated, and Banff and Lake Louise expect great seasons, as so many of the travellers will stop off at those famous mountain resorts. There will also be a very heavy movement to conventions in eastern Canada and the eastern United States.

Mystery it is said, is the keynote of the north. Mystery and silence. And because of its mystery there will always be an attraction, something to draw men on and hold them. For it is no mere legend that the north ever calls back those who have once lived in the snow and the mountains, or through an Alaskan summer. What is true of Alaska is also, to a very great extent true of the east and western shores of Vancouver Island and of the northern mainland shoreline. Scarcely has one left Vancouver or Victoria than there dawns the feeling that here is a new life opening out. As everywhere there is charm, so also is there mystery. One stops off at little coastal villages to explore, or perhaps to fish or hunt, or study native life or industry, and the first thing that one runs into is the mysterious totem pole, that Indian "family tree", which has great significance in the aboriginal history and life of the Indians of the Coast, but which conceals its strange tales from the uninitiated white man.

Two striking examples of Indian art, totem poles which are said to be among the best on the Pacific Coast because of their excellent design, legendry and historical importance, have been brought from the west coast of Vancouver Island to Vancouver, B.C., where Mr. C. Bannister, who secured them from the Indians, has erected them in front of his home. They were made by the Hesquiat Indians and illustrate native legends and tribal history.

The Hesquiat Indians lay claim to being the first natives to see the white man in British Columbia. The tribe's legend of the seeing of these men dates back to 1788. The story told by these Indians is:

"Two Indians were travelling along the west coast in canoes and in a light mist. Suddenly out of the mist there loomed a giant canoe with white wings and skulls hanging from them. All over the decks of the boat scrambled strange-looking creatures such as they had never seen before. They had white faces and stone feet.

"One of the strange palefaces took a long stick and pointed it in the air and it spurted fire. Immediately a seagull fell dead.

"The two Indians in the canoe never recovered from the shock of this quick succession of strange and terrifying scenes and died on the spot."

The totems which Mr. Bannister has secured exceed twenty feet in height and have been set in concrete bases. The Great Eagle on the top of one of the poles was looked upon by Indians as a deity and is seen bringing the whale, which is also an emblem of great strength, to the powerful chief, Cee-Ta-Ka-Nim who was famous as a whale hunter.

When a potlatch, or great giving away feast was held, all of the people of the tribe would gather in the lodge of the chief and a human skull thrown in amongst them. The man who was able to get out of the lodge with the skull was the hero of the potlatch and received the greatest measure of gifts and attention. Cee-Ta-Ka-Nim evidently accomplished this feat as he is seen holding the skull in his hands. The large killer whale beneath is part of his family crest or emblem.

On the other pole the top figure is the official dancing mask of the Hesquiat chief. Beneath is depicted the legend of the Kingfisher and the Great Bear.

The kingfisher was looked upon as a great prevaricator and boaster. One day the bear was walking by a creek where the kingfisher was fishing. The Great Bear said "Tam-Moo-Kee, you are always boasting to everybody of what you can do, yet you never seem to do anything. Now you never hear me boast, but I will show you what I can do." He stood up on his hind legs and started to draw a serpent out of his stomach much to the astonishment and amazement of the kingfisher.

In nearly all Indian legends the characters took on a dual personality, and were able at any time to change themselves into birds, animals or fishes.

FAVORS NEW POLICY IN ALBERTA HOUSE

that steps should be taken by government to enforce such legislation as would encourage development work as much as possible and still protect the public. He favored the imposition of a mineral rights tax but suggested that arrangements be made whereby the leases held by anyone making a genuine effort to drill wells would be exempt. Such action was necessary if the development of the oil is to be encouraged he declared.

The necessity of promoting the Alberta dairy pool was also emphasised by the speaker. Under the present system the farmers were not getting sufficient profit from their operations but with the development of a proper system of handling the product and raising the standard of the product to meet competition on the British markets, the problem in part would be solved.

The quality of the dairy products in Alberta had improved considerably during the past few years as a result of the use of proper methods of handling the speaker said. There was however, still room for improvement and it was hoped that eventually Alberta butter would command the best prices on the markets of Gt. Britain. During the past year Alberta butter had made a splendid showing in England in competition with New Zealand butter he said.

One of the biggest problems at the present time, however, was not so much a matter of quality of the product, but the fact that most of the production is during the four summer months, while in the winter there is very little butter available for export purposes.

The cost of manufacturing the product during the summer was small. As a matter of fact the over run took care of this entirely, but during the eight months when production was light, it cost from 5 to 20 cents per pound to manufacture the cream into butter. This state of affairs could be overcome by encouragement of winter production. At the present time only twenty per cent of the total cream was produced during the period from November 1 to April 1. If this condition was reversed the problem would be overcome.

A bonus for winter production would correct the difficulty. By deducting one cent per pound from the butter made in the summer, four cents could be added to the butter produced during the winter, and there would be little difficulty at such prices to get the farmers convinced that it would be better to have their cows freshen in the fall than in the spring. Through a dairy pool such system could be put into effect, Mr. Love said.

The speaker quoted figures to show that at the present time there was over $3,000,000 invested in creameries and about $15,000,000 in dairy cattle.

The present immigration policy of the government, according to the speaker was the proper method of settling up the country. He contended that in the past immigrants had been brought into the province without regard as to whether they would remain here or not. It had been a matter of free land and plenty of jobs. but after the public buildings had been built, and the railways had been put through, the men had gone to the United States to find work.

"The province needs men who are willing to farm and the only way we can get this class of immigrants is to make conditions attractive for them," he said.

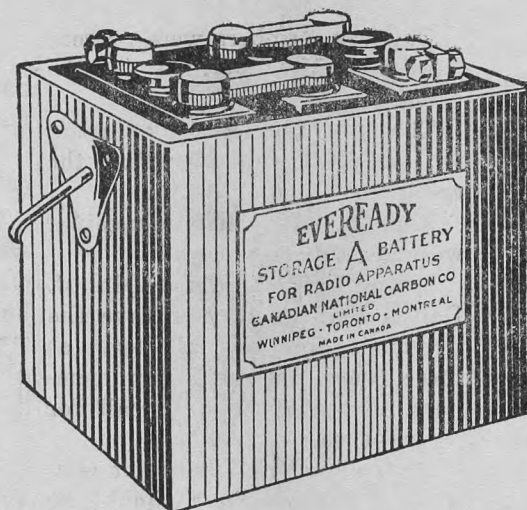

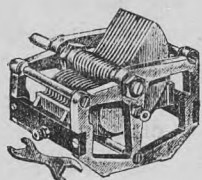

The solutions offered by the speaker were. First, long term farm loans so that immigrants could obtain sufficient capital to start farming; second lower tariffs on implements used in agriculture; and third, development of co-operative marketing.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Saskatchewan last year spent $14,500,000 on the public schools or $65 for every pupil. This is very high. Manitoba last year spent slightly over $8,000,000 on public schools, the cost per pupil being less than $56.

During the early years of the province of Alberta, as was the case also with Manitoba and Saskatchewan there was an ever increasing demand for schools and teachers. There thus grew up the system, at present in vogue, of preparing young people to act as teachers in the minimum amount of time; this being absolutely necessary to supply the demand for education of the ever increasing number of prairie children.

Of late radical changes in the position have become apparent. No longer is there a shortage of teachers, and in the three prairie provinces the normal schools are preparing a surplus which will increase in numbers each year, unless a change is made. It is time therefore that the standard required of these normal students be now raised to those higher standards maintaining in, say, Ontario and Great Britain. Otherwise before many years have passed, we will find that a "prairie education" will be a by-word for inefficiency.

Efficiency cannot be attained in education by simply putting a high school pupil through a few months at normal and turning him or her, often still in their "teens", out on the public as certified teachers. Such persons need more training and experience, and it seems as if the rural school is the happy hunting ground for obtaining this experience; too often at the expense of a class of child which needs, more than the city child, the very best tuition available in the short period of schooling it can obtain.

When officials of the Alberta government tell us that they are spending four million dollars annually over and above their receipts for the training of teachers who have only given an average of three year's service in the vocation for which they were trained at public expense. It is time for the government to insist upon a higher return for the money expended in such training in the form of greater permanency of vocation.

THE POETRY OF LIFE

Life consists, like literature, of poetry and prose; and just as there are folk who never read poetry, so there are those who never by any chance allow the poetry of life to ease what the poet calls "the trivial round, the common task." Yet there is no greater mistake than to leave the poetry out of life. Its lack makes life a machine driven by an engine, instead of a marvellous organism which is more than half divine.

Nature knows better. She is extraordinarily lavish in scents and sounds and forms and colors, which seem to serve little purpose that men call "practical." They just please the eye or the ear.

I have known people so engrossed in what they deem useful occupations that the aesthetic side of life made no appeal to them. As has been aptly said: "The crow doth sing as sweetly as the lark when neither is attended."

But lack of appreciation of the poetry of life goes deeper than this, because people who are poring over life's prose all the time seldom have "the seeing eye and the understanding heart." A too materialistic view of life tends toward hardness and callousness, to the loss of that "sweet reasonableness" which makes a man a brother as well as a master.

Hardness may make money, but it never makes happiness, either for ourselves or for others; and life without happiness is the extremest poverty.

If we were machines which only wanted adjusting, regulating, lubricating, tuning and driving, such things as love and home and neighborliness would not be among our requirements. But we are not. For better or for worse, we are all tremendously dependent—even the most "independent and case-hardened of us—on somebody who has the gift of kindness, affection and service; and the poetry of life consists largely of our own response to these things.

The smile is more potent than the frown, the hand of love than the "mailed fist." The gently trickling stream does more of nature's work than the tempest and the avalanche. We go hustling through life, elbowing our way to the front place, and in the passage we are robbed of our best jewels. It is possible to cast away a crown in reaching eagerly for a bauble.

The man who has time for a sunset, who never wants to ramble round his garden in summer and touch and smell the flowers, who would never dream of romping with his dog, will also be too busy to gain and hold the deep-seated loyalty of his sons and daughter, to their and his boundless loss.

There are some things which you can buy for gold, but neither the poetry or joy of life is among them. Life is not all dollars and cents, and the man who allows business to dominate him, instead of dominating business, making it his master rather than his servant, will be lonesome in spirit though he be surrounded with company.

MY WORK

Let me but do my work from day to day
In field or forest, at desk or loom,
In roaring market place, or tranquil room,
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
This is my work, my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in my own way,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerfully greet the labouring hours
And cheerful turn when the long shadows fall
At eventide to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

The herd consisted of Fairfax cattle (a noted line of blood).

The herd bull Britisher Fairfax which at Auction cost $1,000 is one of the outstanding Hereford bulls in the West.

Mr. Gar. Lawson is to be congratulated on the purchase of this splendid herd. He is one of most successful farmers and has paragoned bed. In 1924 hoots of experience with stock, and his success in this new venture is practically assured.

Mr. J. S. Palmer was sorry to have to part with the herd, but was compelled to cut down farm operations under doctor's orders.

MUNICIPAL DISTRICT OF
NO. 451.

At the annual meeting of the Ratepayers of Merton; a Resolution was passed unanimously; requesting the Council to appoint Stock Rangers to enforce the Municipal Stock By-law regulating the running of Stock in the district.

This matter was taken up at the Council meeting held on March 6th; and each Councillor was authorized to appoint a Stock Ranger to enforce the By-Law. It is the intention of Council to see that the wishes of its ratepayers are carried out. At the present time there are hundreds of horses running in the district which are the property of non-residents; many of them are practically starving; in fact there are numbers of dead horses on the prairie; that have literally starved to death. Such neglect on the part of the owners is absolutely criminal; and if the owners of these horses can be located; no effort will be spared to force their owners to recognize their responsibility. In the meantime the Stock Rangers have full authority to clear the range either by impounding the animals; or by instituting legal proceedings against the owners. It is apparent that the By-Law recently passed in the district east of the meridian, has resulted in large of stock being driven in to this district; but the Council have no intention of allowing this municipality to be the dumping ground of all the stray stock of the country; and the owners are strongly advised to round up their stock; and take them where they have the right to range. This notice may be taken as a warning.

WHEAT POOL CONVENTION AT WAINWRIGHT

A Wheat Pool Convention will be held in Wainwright at the Elite Theatre, Saturday, March 28th at 10 a.m. All members in the district tributary to the railway from Irma to the Saskatchewan boundary are eligible to attend.

The object is to co-ordinate opinion on wheat pool matter. The present system of voting is haphazard, due to it, we have no representative in this district, and there is nothing to prevent the Edmonton District electing 10 delegates within a ten mile radius of Edmonton. At this convention we shall nominate a delegate to the annual wheat pool meeting and then adopt means of advertising our candidate.

A constitution will be drawn up and adopted.

Resolutions from members will be welcome, also any other business in connection with the Wheat Pool.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTES

When visiting the Scott Experimental Station ask to see the excellent quality were cut from May 31st to July 2nd. It is not difficult to grow asparagus in northwestern Saskatchewan and Alberta.

There are numerous varieties of vegetables being listed by seedsmen. Some have been found much better adapted to prairie conditions than others. The Scott Experimental Station has determined by tests for the past 14 years that seed of the following varieties will give the best results

Asparagus Colossal; Beets—Detroit Dark Red, Crossby's Egyptian; Beans—Wardell's Kidney Wax, Extra Early Valentine Masterpiece; Cabbage (early)—Jersey Wakefield, Copenhagen Market; Cabbage (late)—Kildonian, Glory of Enkhuizen, Brandon Market; Cauliflower—Early Snowball, Extra Early Erfurt; Cucumbers—Early Russian, Davis Perfect, Improved Long Breen, Corn—Pickaninny Squaw, Howe's Alberta Flint; Carrot—Chantenay, Garden Gem, Improved Danvers; Celery—Giant

Pascal, Paris Rose Ribbed; Lettuce—Iceberg, Denvers Market, New York.

GROWING OF WHEAT ON CORN LAND

Mr. McKillican, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental farm at Brandon, Man., tells us in his bulletin detailing experiments with wheat, covering a period of thirty four years, that he has formed a decided opinion that it is best not to plough corn stubble in preparation for wheat, provided that the corn land has been well cultivated and kept free from weeds. The seed bed conditions found in such a corn-field are better, he says, than can be obtained again after it has been ploughed. All it requires is some surface cultivation with disk or cultivator and harrow to have ideal conditions for sowing wheat. The corn stubble is less in the way standing upright in place than after it has been overturned by the plough. Of course, if weeds, and especially grass, are present, and have not been cleaned out by the cultivation of the corn then plowing is necessary. "The growing of wheat on corn land," Mr. McKillican says, has been found to be a successful practice."

Clr. Lang wanted to know what would happen to Division No. 5, under the present circumstances, and the Secretary expressed the opinion that according to the reading of the M.D. et, no provision had been made for such a case, and it might be that three months would have to elapse before another election could be arranged for. After some discussion Secretary was instructed to refer the matter to the Department.

Victoria Marks New Steamer's Arrival by Dinner to Pioneer of Coast Shipping

The arrival of the new Canadian Pacific coastal steamer "Princess Kathleen" at Victoria, B.C., at the end of her lengthy trip from the Clyde, Scotland, where she was built, was made a public event by the residents of that city. Crowds met the ship when she steamed into the harbor, and the occasion was marked by a civic dinner to Captain J. W. Troup, manager of the Canadian Pacific British Columbia Coast Service, which was attended by two hundred citizens. The Mayor and aldermen of the city were present, as well as representatives of the Provincial Government. The company was represented by Vice-President Grant Hall, J. J. Scully, general manager eastern lines, and C. H. Temple, chief of motive power and equipment, who crossed Canada from Montreal to be present, and Charles Murphy, general manager western lines, Winnipeg. As a recognition of his many years' effort in contributing to the upbuilding of Victoria, Captain Troup was presented with a massive silver tray suitably engraved.

In returning thanks, Captain Troup told the history of the company's coastal steamship service since 1901, when he had taken over its management. At that time it represented an investment of about $250,000, whereas, he said, it now amounted to well over seven million dollars, while its expenditures in Victoria for equipment and supplies amounted to $43,000 monthly and Victoria's share of the monthly pay roll was $65,000. He told of the building up of the fleet, ship by ship, as growing trade warranted. Captain Troup concluded by remarking that the officers and men of the Canadian Pacific were partners with Victoria and other Canadian cities in building up the tourist traffic and general trade of Canada, and that the future of the country could be assured by co-operation with the company in its national work.

Mr. Grant Hall, who represented President E. W. Beatty, told of the company's history and of its building as a national institution at the time of Confederation when it contracted to build the line and operate it in perpetuity. He told of the steady improvement of the property by the expenditure of many millions until it represented an investment of considerably over a billion dollars, and he referred to the company's reputation for efficiency and courtesy of its officials that has gone round the world. "The Canadian Pacific," he said, "is the largest contributor to the finances of the nation through taxation, and we expect to be judged and patronized on justification given in service."

Mayor J. C. Pendray, speaking of behalf of the city of Victoria, acknowledged the work done by Captain Troup and the company for Victoria and the Pacific Coast generally, while C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, in presenting the silver plate to Captain Troup, paid a tribute to the vision and determination of the men who had founded the Canadian Pacific. Dr. MacLean, Provincial Minister of Finance, spoke on behalf of the Government and referred to the company's war record which, he said, was one of the brilliant illustrations of the readiness of the company to co-operate for the public good.

GOVERNMENT

TELEPHONE REPORT

Necessity for higher rates on government phones in the province is emphasized in the 1924 report of the provincial government telephone branch submitted to the legislature the past week. The financial report shows, that though there was an increase of $15,987 in toll revenues and an increase of $26,132 in exchange revenues, there was a drop of $4,508 in rural phone revenue. Taken with the higher interest charges, the system was left with a net deficit of $123,712.19 for year. A total of 1937 rural phones were removed during the year, and 1318 phones were added, showing a net loss of 619 phones. The report refers to the large mileage of "dead" line in the rural districts, and the non-existence of a proper replacement fund, as reasons pointing toward the necessity of increased rates in the near future. In exchange phones there was a net gain of 904 during the year.

There are now a total of 44,000 phones in use, of which 20,000 are rural. A total of 947 cities, towns and hamlets in the province are connected by the system, and there is connection with 461 points in Saskatchewan, 238 points in Manitoba, 540 points on the Mountain States phone system in the Western States and 32 points in B. C. The total long distance circuit mileage in the province is now 35,502 miles, of which 599 miles are in the Peace River district.

The report comments on the fact that the system is one of the best organized on the continent from the standpoint of service.

Sailing from New York on January 14, the "Empress of France," palatial Canadian Pacific steamship, began her 'round-the-world cruise, which is to last 130 days. The vessel was gallily decked with flags and filled with happy passengers eager to enjoy the experience of a lifetime. F. L. Wanklyn and Mrs. Wanklyn, were among those on board. Mr. Wanklyn recently retired from his position as executive assistant of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The most novel Christmas card handled by the Montreal post office this year was one prepared for the redoubtable Colonel George Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, by a number of internationally known newspaper artists, creators of famous comic strip characters. In the centre of the card is a photo of the Colonel, while grouped around him, commenting on his good qualities, are signed drawings of Pa Perkins, Tillie the Toiler and Mac, Barney Google and Spark Plug. Our Gang and Dumb Dora. Colonel Ham is naturally very proud of the card.

5. Very satisfactory and durable shelter is gained when rows of spruce trees are employed, and these flanked on the outside with caragana in hedge rows. The native white spruce is the logical choice of the spruce varieties but colorado blue spruce will probably withstand drought somewhat better.

6. Undesirable trees to be grown for shelter in proximity to a garden include balsam poplar, Russian poplar, cottonwood, box elder or "Manitoba Maple," and elm. The elm is a gross feeder and uses much soil moisture. The other trees harbor plant pests and cause much annoyance from seedlings, and the poplars send up troublesome suckers.

7. Non-suckering vxarieties of willows such as laurel-leaved willow provide fair shelter for a large garden. This variety, however, should be carefully inspected for disease and cuttings obtained only from a plantation possessing a clean bill of health.

8. Until the tree shelter attains statue sufficient to make it efficient, it is helpful to grow a temporary shelter. Among the plants available for such planting are sunflowers, corn, and hemp.

9. Hemp makes an attractive shelter for the flower border. The seed should be fresh as it seems readily to lose its vitality.

10. Shelter protection seems to benefit all garden plants but it is necessary for the maturing of tall fragile plants such as tobacco, delphiniums, hollyhocks, etc.

11. Good shelter is of much value to all hot weather crops as tomatoes, peanuts, melons, beans, okra, corn, etc.

12. Shelter is distinctly desirable for vine crops. Winds tend to blow the vines into braids or coils. The vine crops, such as melons, cucumbers, pumpkins, bear imperfect flowers and require visitation from insects to effect pollination. Insects, such as bees, work most effectively in sheltered locations, and stay in their hives if high winds are blowing and their forage is not sheltered.

It may be pointed out that for the growing of horticultural crop for exhibition purposes, the sheltered garden has a decided advantage.

NATURAL RESOURCES SETTLEMENT

Announcement that the Alberta Government had accepted the offer of the Federal Government with respect to the return of the natural resources to provincial control, was made in the Legislature during the past week by Premier Greenfield. The basis of settlement is that the province will take over the remaining resources, and will receive a payment of the amount of the present subsidy for three years. The agreement is subject to authorization by both the Federal Parliament and the Provincial Legislature.

Don't forget the Moccasin Dance to be held on Friday evening of this week at the Chauvin rink. Everybody welcome.

Here and There

In conjunction with the further loan of $3,000,000 for colonization to be authorized by the Quebec legislature this season, it is also intended to raise the bounty to settlers on the acreage cleared. At present the government gives a bonus of $6 an acre. It will be raised to $8 an acre. The province spent $30,000 in this way in the last fiscal year.

The amount of butter exported to Japan through Vancouver during 1924 was nearly twice that of 1923, according to figures supplied by the Japanese consulate at that point. The report shows that in 1924 the quantity was 476,454 pounds, as compared with only 299,695 pounds in 1923. Total cheese shipments to the same destination last year amounted to 2,685 pounds, as against only 40 in 1923.

A recent analysis of immigration according to occupation of immigrants arriving in Canada since 1920 shows a steady increase in the ratio of agriculturists and domestics towards all others. In 1921 the figure was 35 per cent. It was 44 per cent for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922, 47 per cent for the fiscal year 1923-24 and 51 per cent for the nine months April to December, 1924.

One of the outstanding features of the Grain Commission Board's report for the season 1922-23, was the tribute paid to the excellent service rendered by the Canadian Pacific Railway in handling the western crop. Though the company handled 105,000 cars of grain, it received only six complaints about lack of cars from the railway and commission combined. In 1923-24, with an even larger number handled, there were only eight complaints.

Orchestras from the Canadian Pacific steamships "Empress of France" and "Empress of Scotland", when they arrived recently at New York and before sailing on their round the world and Mediterranean cruises which the company starts annually from that port broadcasted through WJZ a forty-five minute programme of selected Scots, English, Welsh, Irish and Canadian airs, while the "Montroyal", on her return from the company's cruise to the West Indies, broadcasted British and Spanish music through WJY of New York.

Information furnished by J. Frank Callbreath, packing contractor and general merchant, shows that during the 1924 hunting season, parties secured 12 moose, 25 caribou, 26 goat, 31 sheep, 15 black bear and 11 grizzlies in the Telegraph Creek district of British Columbia. Of the caribou, the largest, shot by J. J. Sartori, of Brooklyn, N.Y., has a spread of 47 inches, is 39 1/2 inches long and has 27 points. The largest sheep horns were 41 1/2 inches long, with a spread of 31 inches, and were secured by A. D. Stewart, of New York.

The third annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby, run off at Quebec on February 19, 20 and 21, was a tremendous success. Twenty-two mushers and their teams from many parts of Canada and the United States competed over the 120-mile course, the race being won by Emile St. Goddard, of Le Pas, Man., who also won this year's derby at that place. The last day's lap was run through a blinding snowstorm, which gave the thousands of sports visitors from Canada and the United States who witnessed it, a vivid impression of normal conditions experienced by these outfits.
